

FORISK WOOD FIBER REVIEW

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

I subscribe to the North American Wood Fiber Review; what happens now?

Effective December 31, 2019, Forisk Consulting will acquire the North American Wood Fiber Review (NAWFR) market report from Wood Resources International (WRI). Forisk will continue publishing the same data that subscribers are accustomed to receiving, under the new product name “Forisk Wood Fiber Review.” All current subscribers are welcomed and encouraged to continue their subscription with Forisk, and Forisk welcomes the opportunity to discuss the transition and answer questions via phone or email any time.

Will there be changes to the publication under Forisk’s new ownership?

Over the next few quarters, you will notice changes with the report format and layout; however, the overarching content and data will remain consistent in 2020.

What information is included in the Forisk Wood Fiber Review publication?

The Wood Fiber Review includes price data on pulpwood, wood chips and biomass by region for the U.S. and Canada, in addition to market information and data on regional wood fiber markets and trade statistics for lumber, logs, wood pellets, wood chips and pulp.

Who collects and manages the data?

Tim Gammell, currently the Executive Editor of the NAWFR publication, will join Forisk’s team and continue to conduct market research, maintain contacts, collect the data, and support the Review as he always has.

What is the publication cycle?

The Forisk Wood Fiber Review is published four times per year in the last month of each quarter: March, June, September and December. Forisk will continue to issue a “First Look” of the data 2-3 weeks before each publication.

What is the format and delivery method of the Forisk Wood Fiber Review?

The Forisk Wood Fiber Review is delivered in a PDF format and delivered to subscribers via email. Subscribers will also have the option of receiving hardcopies for an additional fee.

How much does an annual subscription to the Forisk Wood Fiber Review cost?

National	Regional	Single
$3,000	$2,100	$1,250

- National = Assets in multiple regions and/or national/global coverage in activities.
- Regional = Assets in one U.S. region and/or multiple offices/services in one region.
- Single = One/two office firms in one/two states; single-user license.

The fee for receiving a hardcopy of the Wood Fiber Review is $200 per year.

Also, subscribers to the Forisk Research Quarterly (FRQ) receive a 10% discount on their Wood Fiber Review subscription.
